Michael Davitt for 48 Hour Hovered Clone Death.

Dublin, May 19. Michael Davitt, who is now improving, had a narrow escape from death as the result of a complicafion of blood poisoning and a mild form

The trouble began with a bad tooth The inflammation extended to the check necessitating an operation. Blood poisoning accompanied by a form of lock jaw followed, the patient's jaw having to be forced to admit nourishment. For 48 hours his life was despaired of, when another operation was decided upon, and this time it is believed was successfully performed.
